Fancy a Delhi in Paris?

Her inventive, modern Indian cuisine is an invitation to travel. Sandra Salmandjee, aka Chef Sanjee, has won over the sharp palates of French diners with specialities from a country that's very much like her. It's all smiles and delights, colours, sharing and gastronomy. She handles spices like a poet with his verses; coriander, ginger and turmeric hold no secrets for her. The cooking in her family is passed down from grandmother to mother and father to son: a pinch of French gastronomy where she lives, a zest of Madagascan inspiration - where her parents grew up - and above all a big bowl of exotic Bollywood that comes from her ancestors.

"Le positif appelle le positif"

Her cuisine is as beautiful to look at as it is to taste. She worked for 10 years in fashion (Cacharel, Agnès b.) before devoting herself to her passion, cooking. In just two years, she has already won over amateurs and professionals alike. On her blog Bollywoodkitchen.com, she attracts over 40,000 visitors a month and has shared her art with over 5,000 enthusiasts.

Today, restaurants and brands call on her to create menus and recipes. She also hosts private events in her own home. Follow the chef!
